

Designing With Light
Chapter 14

Print front and back and cut along the lines for quick and easy flashcards!

International Building Code

International Green Construction Code

National Electric Code

Standards for Accessible Design

ANSI/ASHRAE/IESNA Standard 90.1

ANSI/ASHRAE/IESNA Standard 189.1

International Energy Conservation Code

The most used model building code in the U.S. It is developed and maintained by the International Code Council

The most used model electrical code in the U.S. It is developed and maintained by the National Fire Prevention Association.

A model code that sets minimum energy efficiency requirements for buildings and their systems.

An alternative to Standard 90.1. A model code that sets minimum energy efficiency requirements for buildings and their systems.

A model code that addresses sustainability from design and construction through occupancy.

Design requirements related to the Americans With Disabilities Act.

A model code that addresses sustainable design and construction.

Title 24

COMCheck

RESCheck

A software package used in energy code compliance of commercial and high-rise residential buildings.

The California code that sets minimum energy efficiency requirements for buildings and their systems.

A software package used in energy code compliance of low-rise residential buildings.